16th Sustainment Brigade assumes authority at COB Q-West Iraq

By Spc. Anthony Hooker
215th Mobile Public Affairs Detachment

CONTINGENCY OPERATING BASE Q-WEST, Iraq – The 16th Sustainment Brigade, led by Col. Martin B. Pitts, assumed authority for COB Q-West and sustainment operations in northern Iraq, during a transfer of authority ceremony here Aug. 9.

The ceremony marked the end of a 15-month tour for the 3rd Sustainment Brigade, a Fort Stewart, Ga., unit; and the arrival of the 16th SB from Bamberg, Germany. The 16th SB, on its first deployment, is the only U.S. Army sustainment brigade in Europe.

Brig. Gen. Mike Lally, commanding general, 3rd Sustainment Command (Expeditionary), and reviewing officer for the ceremony, reminded the audience of the 3rd SB's achievements; Lally also spoke of how important 16th SB's ability to maintain focus on the mission would be.

"Transitions of Authority mark the end of a challenging and successful mission," said Lally. "It's also a time to reflect on the gravity and breadth of your unit's impact on our success in Iraq. For the incoming unit, it's an official assumption of a vital mission and

Summer hires learn life lessons and job skills

Staff report

Sometimes the most important thing you learn on a job is that it's time to get a better education so that you don't "have" to do "that" job in order to pay the bills. Hopefully the USAG Bamberg Summer Hires learned much more than that, but if not, they will have still learned an important life lesson.

This summer 28 teenagers got jobs with the program and were placed in a variety of locations from working with the theater learning how to set up lights and sound equipment to working at the CAC making shakes and pouring coffee to helping out around the Chapel and the Health Clinic.

The Bamberg summer hire program runs for 6 weeks every summer out of the Civilian Personnel Advisory Center. The goal is to provide the future work force some real life work experience.

Students gain experiences while working they never expect. In the case of Jocelyn Bright-Smith, she expected her job at the Public Affairs Office to be similar to working on her high school yearbook. After working the summer, her thoughts on the matter had changed somewhat. "My overall summer hire experience was good. It was definitely a learning experience that made my yearbook class seem elementary," Bright-Smith said.

U.S., Romanian Soldiers experience non-lethal training firsthand

JTF-E Public Affairs

MK AIRFIELD ADMINISTRATION CENTER, Romania – A group of Romanian and American Soldiers got together this week to incite a riot, get shot with tasers, and submit to pepper-spraying.

"Sometimes you just gotta experience things firsthand to really know your limitations," said Staff Sgt. Robert Reeves, 541st Engineers Company, during a three-day Joint Task Force-East non-lethal tactics training event in Mihail Kogalniceanu Airfield Administrative Center, Romania.

The training, which began Aug. 5, covered hand-to-hand combat, riot control formations and crowd disbursing. But it was the firsthand pain of being tased and pepper-sprayed that had the most impact, as Soldiers volunteered to experience both during training.

"You feel like your face is on fire, but it's good to know the amount of pain you could be putting someone through so you know what form of force is most appropriate," Reeves said after being pepper sprayed.

Reeves was one of the first to volunteer to be tased, but it was Pvt. David Saucier that braved the first hit.

"I just wanted to know how it felt," Saucier said, and almost all of the others followed suit, which 541st Engineers 1st Sgt. Mitchell Moery attributed to the unit's camaraderie.

This camaraderie was not limited to the Americans, as the Romanians also volunteered to submit to the tasing and pepper-spraying.

From left, Pvt. Kodi Burdick, Pfc. Monte Hall, and Pvt. Cameron Strickland of the 541st Eng. Co., react to being tased simultaneously by their training instructor after having volunteered to do so during a JTF-East non-lethal tactics training event this week.

According to the 541st Engineers company commander, the training gave Soldiers a skill-set that is necessary in an ever-changing warfront.

"As our role changes from combat operations to full spectrum operations, it's important to also have non-lethal tactics training," said Company Commander Capt. Clinton Brown.

Soldiers of the 541st have been training alongside their Romanian counterparts, of the 21st Mountain Battalion, throughout this year's JTF-East rotation.

Summer hire

Other summer hires felt the experience was also worthwhile. Dijon Holland said, "I learned better people skills," and her co-worker Kianna Thomas said, "Now I know how to use a fax machine." The two worked at the Community Activity Center this summer.

Madison Thornes and Bobby Vasquez had the chance to work at the Stable Theater. They learned how to paint sets for theatrical productions and how to work the sound board. When asked what was her favorite part, Thornes stated, "Just being able to help." And though it was his first year working, Vasquez gave an enthusiastic thumbs up to taking part in the program again next year.

All in all it appears the students had a good time working and had the chance to earn their own money. Some were using the money to buy musical instruments while others put some of the money in savings.

So parents, early next spring you may want to ask your teenager, "What will you do if you get a chance to be a summer hire employee?"

Army clinics support Healthcare Benefits Awareness Month

HEIDELBERG, Germany – Army health clinics will support the European Command's 2008 Healthcare Benefits Awareness Month in September by hosting special events throughout the month.

Healthcare Benefits Awareness Month is a quality of life initiative begun in 2006 to inform military personnel, Families, Department of Defense civilians, military retirees and other authorized beneficiaries about healthcare options available to them in Europe.

This year's campaign will include a health fair Sept. 24 at Europe Regional Medical Command treatment facilities. All clinics have planned additional community outreach activities, which will be announced locally.

TRICARE health benefit literature and other health care information will be available at all treatment facilities.

The weekly AFN Radio Open Line talk show, which airs 10-11 a.m. Wednesdays on local AFN stations, will be dedicated to medical topics all month. Listeners can phone questions to a panel of medical experts or e-mail them prior to or during each show. The phone number is DSN 389-4595 or commercial 0621.46085.595 from within Germany. From outside Germany, call +49.621.46085.595. The e-mail address is openline@afne.army.mil

The Sept. 3 Open Line will feature information about medical transformation in an important mental shift from a mindset of preparation to one of execution."

The 3rd SB, operating as the logistical headquarters for Multi-National Division-North, successfully supported 13 brigade-sized units with forces totaling more than 70,000 service members, contractors, and Department of Defense civilians. The 3rd SB also drove more than 3,700 combat logistical patrols, pushed nearly 134 million gallons of fuel from fuel farms at Q-West, Camp Marez, and COB Speicher.

After welcoming his "new best friends" from the 16th SB, Col. Darrell K. Williams, commander, 3rd SB, gave thanks to everyone in attendance as well as the "nameless" individuals who serve on all lines of the battlefield. He singled out Soldiers who lost their lives fighting on behalf of Operation Iraqi Freedom.

Williams said in a separate interview

The Sept. 10 Open Line show will focus on medical care for Soldiers before, during and after deployment. Soldier and Family issues, including Installation Management Command-Europe prevention and Europe Regional Medical Command Soldier and Family Support Services treatment programs, will be discussed Sept. 17. Dental care, maternity issues, pediatrics and pet health are scheduled for the Sept. 24 show.

that logistical support serves as an enabler to the successful transition of Iraq back to its citizens.

"Logistics helps this campaign in two ways," said Williams. "We are critical in assisting our fighting forces as they reposition themselves to the battlefield."

"We also are setting the condition for Iraqis to better themselves by training the Iraqis how to build and sustain supplies so they can support their military logistical forces better in the future," he said.

Pitts' speech emphasized his enthusiasm for the challenge ahead for his Soldiers. Pitts also expressed his regard for the outgoing unit's accomplishments and their hospitality. "I am humbled and blessed by the opportunity to command this unit during combat operations and am honored by the opportunity we have been given to break new ground and forge the storied history of the 16th Sustainment Brigade."

16th Special Troops Battalion “Scouts” take reins at Q-West

By Sgt. Keith M. Anderson
16th SB Public Affairs

CONTINGENCY OPERATING BASE Q-WEST, Iraq — The “Scouts” of the 16th Special Troops Battalion, 16th Sustainment Brigade, Bamberg, Germany, officially took over the reins from the 3rd Special Troops Battalion, 3rd SB, out of Fort Stewart, Ga., during a transfer-of-authority ceremony here Aug. 9.

The 3rd STB “Hell Raisers” ended their 15-month Operation Iraqi Freedom 07-09 deployment by casing their colors during the ceremony. Headquarters and Headquarters Company, Alpha Company and Logistics Task Force Bravo, all 3rd STB, received a safety streamer for their safety record and a re-enlistment streamer for meeting retention goals during their deployment.

The 16th STB replaces the 3rd STB, under the 3rd Sustainment Command (Expeditionary), the Multinational Corps – Iraq; and Operation Iraqi Freedom 08-10; effective Aug. 9, 2008, according to orders signed by Brig. Gen. Michael J. Lally, commander, 3rd ESC.

Lt. Col. Christopher Chun, commander, 16th STB, told Soldiers it was time to buckle down and get to work.

“Now it is time to focus solely on our current mission,” Chun said. “Diverse and important missions such as providing finance and human resources support to all of Multinational Division – North; managing the key logistical node on the border of Turkey and Iraq; the personal security team; and the Aerostat mission for COB Q-West.”

The 16th STB is composed of a headquarters company, a signal company, a financial management company, a human resources

Outside the Gate

Weekend Events in and around Bamberg for Aug. 15-22

Blues- and Jazz Festival - August 15 – 17

Events are listed below.

58th Sandkirchweih - Aug. 21 -25

The largest street festival in Bamberg has long been lovingly called the "Sandkerwa." This traditional festival staged in the historic center of the city provides an interesting program of events all set against the picturesque backdrop of the area known as "Little Venice." The fest ends with a firework display on Aug. 25. Entertainment, food and beverages are available. One of the highlights is the traditional "Italian Night" on Aug. 23 where illuminated boats float down the River Regnitz. Parking for this festival is extremely limited, so be sure to take public transportation.

As seen in the NEWS ..

News summaries from Aug. 9-13

View to the "Rathaus" tower is back

The Rathaus tower is open again just in time for the main tourist season. The East side of the "city hall" tower had been covered during the restoration of the balcony and the crest but the scaffolding is gone just in time for the tourists.

New McDonalds opens at Bahnhof (main train station)

On the Aug.19 the doors to the ninth McDonalds restaurant in the region will open downtown next the Bahnhof. Less than a year after the opening of the McDonalds on Berliner Ring Strasse, there will be another location for fast-food fans. After the closure of the location in the "Lange Strasse" a few years ago there was a need for a location to serve the downtown area. It will have around 70 seats inside as well as 30 seats in a courtyard and 20 more outside in front of the restaurant. Opening hours will be from 6 a.m to 1 a.m.

The giant beer refrigerator in the tunnel

With a unique and spectacular action the brewery "Schlenkerla" is expanding their much needed storage capacity at the Stephansberg district. Instead of constructing an unattractive corrugated metal sheet storage facility they are putting more storage tanks in the underground tunnel with an expected total of 13 tanks by September. The brewer's ancestors used the tunnels in the Stephansberg district hundreds of years ago as "natural refrigerators" since the temperature there never rises above 8 degrees Celsius even in the heat of summer. They had used the tunnel for their tanks in the past but some needed to be replaced due to age and so the expansion was a logical next step.
